Leigh Oliver is an associate in the Matrimonial & Family Law Department.

While attending law school, Leigh served as the senior articles editor of the Women's Rights Law Reporter and was a member of the Courtroom Advocate's Project, where she successfully obtained temporary restraining orders for victims of domestic violence in Bronx Family Court. She also served as a student attorney in the Immigrant Rights Clinic and as a legal intern with the New Jersey Office of the Public Defender.

After graduating law school, Leigh served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Haekyoung Suh, P.J.F.P., in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Family Part. During her clerkship, she gained invaluable experience in all aspects of family and juvenile matters.
